Hopelink - a 38-year-old nonprofit agency helping families, senior citizens and people with disabilities in east and north King County, needs more volunteers at its centers in Redmond, Bellevue, Kirkland, Shoreline, Bothell and Carnation. Hopelink relies upon volunteers for such jobs as sorting food in its food banks, helping adults learn to read or do basic math or study for the GED exams, delivering food to homebound clients, or answering phones and helping with administrative tasks. In April alone, more than 700 volunteers donated over 6,000 hours to help Hopelink programs and clients.

Hopelink continues to need new volunteers over age 16 and volunteers between the ages of 12 and 16 with parent/guardian supervision. Go to www.hope-link.org and click on Volunteers.

Looking for a way to get involved at Sammamish as well as help students reach their dream of attending college? The AVID program is looking for class speakers to come in and present about their career or other activities that directly relate to attending college and beyond. If you would be willing, or know of speakers who would be willing, to come in and volunteer time to our AVID students, please contact Jenny Brooks, Sammamish Counselor. (425) 456-7608 brooksj@bsd405.org. Thanks for your consideration!

Check the status of your child's grades on Parent PIV grade/attendance viewer. Go to <http://schools.bsd405.org/shs/> and click on the link for "Grades." Add your student's id # and password. You can also sign up for daily email notification.
